NOVEMBER TERM OF COURT

Now Going On in Temple of Justice.

JUDGE ORVIS PRESIDES

The Milesburg Water Case Tried Before Judge Telford Ended Tuesday Morning.

WITH A VERDICT FOR THE PLAINTIFF

The regular November term of Court convened Monday morning at 10 o'clock with Judge Ellis L. Orvis on the bench. Prothonotary Kimport and Register Archey occupied their accustomed places. The first thing in order was the calling jurors, absentees were noted and William Peeler of Gregg twp., was chosen foreman. Judge Orvis then addressed the grand jurors explaining to them very plainly what their duties are and urging them to be careful but at the same time progress as rapidly as possible with the business before them.

The constables of the several boroughs and townships of the county then made their quarterly reports.

Quite a number of petitions were presented and disposed of after which Court adjourned until 2 p. m.

Judge Samuel J. Telford, of Indiana county, who has been assisting Judge Orvis since last week finished his business Tueday morning and left for his home. Among the cases he disposed of were the following:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Clara Brown vs. Ellen E. Bower and John J. Bower, administrators of C. M. Bower, late of Bellefonte borough, deceased, being an action in assumpsit; verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $304 07.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex. rel. Blanch Hayes vs. same being an action in Assumpsit; vertict in favor of the plantiff for $1547.93.

In the case of George T. Brew vs. Christian Sharer, Eve Sharer, W. H. Marcey, A. A. Bertels, Thomas Pence, being an action for ejectment for lands in Rush township. This case was continued by agreement of counsel.

Hugh Ward, Jr., vs, J. T. Lucas, being an action in assupsit. This case is from Snow Shoe township, and grows out of the dispute as to book accounts, etc., existing between these parties from something in 1886 till along about the begining of 1893, plantiff claiming a large balance due him while, on the other hand, the defendant claims a balance due him.

Bellefonte, Aaronsburg and Youngmanstown Turnpike Road Company vs. Centre county. Jury called and after the case was opened by ex-Judge Furst on behalf of the plaintiff, court adjourned untill Tuesday morning. On Tuesday morning counsel for plantiff and defendant announced that the case was setted.

On last Thursday afternoon the case of Charles Schad vs Milesburg boro was taken up before Judge Telford. Hon. A. O. Furst and Paul Zerby represented the Prosecutor and John G. Love and J. A. B. Miller, the defendants. This case was a damage suit. The plaintiff owns considerable land back of the Armor Gap. On this land was a spring. Several years ago Milesburg boro took it under the right of eminent domain. They built a reservoir and it now supplies the citizens of Milesburg with water. Mr. Schad and the boro council could not agree on the price of the land hence the suit. This is the second trial of this case. The first trial was before Judge Love and Schad got a verdict for $2750.00 which was cut down by the Court to $1600.00 The plaintiff was not satisfied with this result and a new trial was secured. The case was closely contested on both sides and finally went to the jury Monday evening about 5:30 o'clock. Tuesday morning they returned a verdict in favor of Schad for $1163.83. Mr. Schad it is said will contest the case further.

WEDNESDAY'S SESSIONS.

Commonwealth vs James Andrews. Assault and battery with intent to commit rape. Prosecutrix Frances Swisher. Verdict "Not Guilty" and costs divided between prosecutrix and defendant.

Commonwealth vs Jesse Strayer, F. & b case. Prosecutrix, Annie Barr. Defendant entered a plea of guilty and the usual sentence was imposed by the court.

Commonwealth vs Harry Bottorf. Assault and battery. Prosecutor Samuel Furl. Verdict "guilty."

Commonwealth vs Harry Kelly. 1rt count, assault; 2nd count assault and battery. Defendant plead guilty to the first count and a Nolle Prose was entered as to second count. Court sentenced him to pay the costs of prosecution and a fine of $1.00

Commonwealth vs Thomas and John Gilson. Conveying property with intent to defraud creditors.

A. H. Knoff vs Louis Rosenthal. This case was an appeal from a Justice's verdict. Knoff had shipped some poultry to Rosenthal in crates and boxes and the latter had not returned them. Knoff sued him before a justice and secured the verdict. Rosenthal appealed it to court. The prosecutor received a verdict for $1.00

M. C. Gephart vs James B. Noll. This case was brought to recover on a piano which Gephart had delivered to Noll's house. Mr. Gephart is a Bellefonte piano dealer.

JACOB L. DEHAAS

Proprietor of the Syracuse House, Howard, is Dead.

Jacob L. DeHaas, proprietor of the Syracuse house at Howard, died at his home in that place Wednesday evening after a prolonged illness with Bright's disease.

He was born in Howard and was aged 49 years, 1 month and 8 days. His father was Curtis DeHaas, a veteran of the civil war and one of the early settlers of the county.

The deceased was married to Miss Mary Burns, of Mt. Eagle, who survives him with two children, Margaret and Charles S. He was a member of the Catholic church and the funeral took place Saturday morning at 10:30. Interment in the Catholic cemetery at Howard.

For a number of years Mr. DeHaas was engaged in the hotel business at Howard and was a very popular landlord and a good citizen of that community.

Boy After a Bear.

A son of Wesley Nevil, south of Colyer had an experience with a bear recently on the Seven Mountains. The young man was in the mountains for small game, and had used all his ammunition except one ball and a charger of bird shot, when he raised a large black bear. His weapon was hurridly loaded, steady aim taken, and fired. Bruin was badly wounded, and struck for liberty. A trail of blood was followed for a long distance, but night came before the game could be run down, and a rain that fell later made it impossible to continue the search the next morning.

Accident With a Gun.

One day last week four little boys the oldest about fourteen years of age, were having sport with a target gen, in a thicket near Boalsburg. when by accident, Karl, the six-year old son of Edward Willians, was shot. The ball entered the flesh above the knee, grazing the bone, and passed through the limb. The eldest of the boys picked up the injured lad and carried him to a house near by.

Dr. Kidder dressed the wound and latter in the day the boy was taken to his home. The lad is bearing his suffering patiently and doing as well as can be expected.

Death of Miss Grace Ginter.

Grace E. Ginter, a daughter of the late James Ginter, well-known to most everybody in Bellefonte, died in the St. Joseph's hospital, Philadelphia, Monday Nov. 13th, where she was operated on for appendicitis after an illness of only four days. She became ill the Thursday previous to her death and was taken to the hospital for an aperation on Friday.

Deceased was born in Bellefonte Dec. 4th, 1876, and was therefore almost 29 years of age. With her parents she moved to Philadelphia a number of years ago. Her father died about a year ago, since which time she has helped very materially toward the support of her mother and sisters. The funeral was held on Thursday, Nov. 17th, interment being made in the Fernwood cemetery,

PENNSYLVANIA DAY

Annual Celebration of the College Friday

A LARGE ATTENDANCE

Interesting Addresses by Joseph M. Huston And J. Horace McFarland in the Auditorium.

COLLEGE BUILDINGS OPEN ALL DAY

Friday the College threw open its portals to guests and friends. The occasion was the celebration of Pennsylvania Day in conformance with the practice that has been in vogue for some years.

The trustees of the College a number of years ago set aside the Friday before Thanksgiving to be used solely for the purpose of honoring the Great State of Pennsylvania. Every year since then a great gathering of educators, legislators, and friends of the College have come together to join in the exercises.

Friday was especially delightful and included among its attractive features, addresses by Mr. Joseph M. Huston, and Mr. J. Horrace McFarland, luncheon at McAlister Hall, a drill of the Military Cadets, and a game of football.

The speakers of the day were both men of national reputation in their respective lines of work Mr. McFarland is the proprietor of the Mt. Pleasant Press, and the author of that magnificent work, "The Trees of Pennsylvania," and is one of the very foremost literary men in America.

Mr. Huston is the architect of the capitol at Harrisburg and to those who have seen this magnificent structure no more need be said.

The football game in the afternoon was the most vigorous contest that has been fought on the local gridiron this year, the warriors of the University of West Virginia coming here in prime condition with the expectation of carrying home a scalp.

In the afternoon the battalion was reviewed by General Miller. For the benefit of the College freshman it may be well to state that General Miller is the Major General in command of the national guard of Pennsylvania, and has taken a friendly interest in the affairs of State College.

The program in detail was as follows:

THE PENNSYLVANIA STATE COLLEGE

Pennsylvania Day, Nov. 24, 1905.

In the Auditorium, 10:30 a. m,

1 { Invocation, by the Rev. Dr. Gill. / The Lord's Prayer—Chant.

2 Address by Mr. Joseph M. Huston: Pennsylvania in Evolution.

3 Kipling's "Recessional," (Arranged) By the College Choir.

4 Address by Mr. J. Horace McFarland: Pennsylvania's Relation to the Art of Printing.

5 America—My Country, 'tis of Thee.

12:00 M. to 1p. m. Luncheon at McAlister Hall for guests of the College.

2:00 to 2:30. Review of the Cadet Batalion.

3:00. Football—University of West Virginia vs. "State" on Beaver Field.

Mrs. Margaret E. Border.

Mrs. Margaret Eleanor Border, wife of Robert Border, died at her home 405 Eleventh street, Altoona, Saturday afternoon at 12:55 after a short illness.

Deceased was born in Nittany, Centre county, and was aged 32 years. Her maiden name was Miss Margaret Tate. Besides her husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Hettie Tate, of Nittany, three sisters, Mrs. Kate Stover, of Hublersburg; Mrs, Jennie Shope, of Nittany, and Mrs. Mollie Fultz, of Milwaukee, and five brothers, as follows: John Tate, of Salona; Charles Tate, of Flemington; Nerr Tate, of New Orleans; Ed. and Robert, of Tyrone. She was an attendant at the United Evangelical church.

The funeral services were held at her home Monday morning at 10 o'clock and Monday afternoon the remains passed through Bellefonte on their way to Nittany where interment took place Tuesday morning.

J. FEARON MANN.

Death of a Former Well Known Bellefonte Resident.

J. Fearon Mann, a well known business citizen of Lewistown, died at his residence, No. 19 Logan street, at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, aged about 64 years. Mr. Mann had been an invalid for some months and about one week ago he was stricken with pneumonia which resulted in his death.

During all his active life Mr. Mann was prominently identified with the axe-making industry. He was a son of William Mann, jr., and was born at Mann, in Mifflin county. In 1867 he became a member of the firm of William Mann, jr., & Co., engaged in the manufacture of axes at that place. In 1875, on the death of his cousin, Harvey Mann, he became proprietor of the axe manufacturing plant at Axe Mann, near Bellefonte. This was the original Mann axe factory. Mr. Mann successfully conducted this plant until 1890 when it was purchased by The American Axe and Tool company and soon after was closed.

Deceased is survived by his wife and four children, Harris, Ralph, Anna and Harriet, all living in Lewistown. One sister, Mrs. J. M. Yeager of Yeagertown, is the only surviving member of his family. He was one of the oldest members of the Masonic fraternity, having taken the thirty three degrees, and held membership in the three Masonic organizations of Lewistown.

The funeral was held Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at Lewistown. Interment at that place.

A TRAMP'S HEROIC ACT.

Loses a Leg in Saving the Life of a Philipsburg Young Woman.

A few days Mrs. John Gowland, wife of Philipsburg's postmaster and daughter Jennie, now the wife of W. T Laird, went to Williamsport to attend the celebration of Thomas Dawson's 92 birthday anniversary. On Saturday night, according to a lengthy report published in the Williamsport News of Monday afternoon, Mrs. Laird had a narrow escape from death, and in the attempt to save her life, Frank Singer, of Easton, generally recognized as a tramp or vagabond, lost his right leg About 9 o'clock Mrs. Laird and her mother, as well as several others were standing at the Hepburn street crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad waiting an opportunity to pass over.

A shifting engine had drawn a string of about eight freight cars over the crossing just far enough to allow the numerous pedestriane waiting on both sides to cross, when it suddenly backed, taking the excited passengers by surprise.

In the hurrying crowd Singer, who was trying to pass, collided with Mrs. Laird coming from the opposite direction, knocking her to the pavement and stunning her.

Realizing the woman's plight and not considering his own risk, the man lifted her bodily from the tracks on which the first car of the train was now not far distant, and pushed her out of harm's way. But it was then too late to escape himself. Singer was struck by the sill of the box-car and thrown, his right leg going under the wheels. He was dragged a distance of 60 feet before the engineer could bring the train to a standstill. The unfortunate man was picked up and taken to the hospital, where his leg, so badly crushed, was amputated. He is 53 years old, and as far as known, has no relations.

A dozen or more persons witnessed the brave rescue and the frightful accident which befell the ragged hero. Mrs. Laird speaks with pity of Singer and expresses her gratitude for his act of sacrifice. She has a keen appreciation of his courage.

Dog Answers Master's Call Over Telephone.

One of the most curious things that ever happened in that part of the country took place at Sayre, Pa., Saturday, when the fine bred hound "Ring," owned by E. O. Pealer and C. Smiley, answered the call by telephone. The dog was in the Smiley residence in Stevenson street, and Mr. Pealer called up the residence over the 'phone and asked Mrs. Smiley if the dog was there, as he wanted to go hunting. Mrs. Smiley told Mr. Pealer that there was no one at home to take the dog to him, so Mr. Pealer called the dog's name over the phone and he answered. Mrs. Smiley put the receiver to the canine's ear, and Mr. Pealer said, "Ring, come out; we will go on a hunt." Ring barked ran out of the house and down the street about a half mile to the residence of the Pealers, where the dog met his master. Mr. Pealer telephoned back to Mrs. Smiley that the dog had arrived.

RAILROAD HORROR!

This Time It Occurred on Fitchburg Division of the Boston and Maine.

FIFTEEN PERSONS DEAD

Were Killed Outright, Burned to Death or Suffocated as Result of a Collision.

MANY OTHERS WERE SEVERELY HURT

Lincoln, Mass., November 27—The most disastrous railroad wreck in the state for many years occurred at 8:15 o'clock Sunday night at Baker's Bridge station, a mile and a half west of Lincoln, on the main line of the Fitchburg division of the Boston and Maine railroad. The regular Sunday night express which left Boston at 7:45 o'clock for Montreal via the Montreal system, crashed into the rear of a local train which started from Boston at 7:15 for points on the main line and the Marlborough branch.

15 KILLED, 30 WOUNDED.

At least fifteen persons were killed outright, burned to death or suffocated and thirty or more were seriously injured. Many passengers sustained minor cuts, bruises and burns.

The wreck was primarily due to thick weather which apparently obscured signals set by the forward train, which, at the time of the disaster, was standing in front of Baker's Bridge station. The Montreal train, drawn by two locomotives and consisting also of nine cars, crashed into the rear of the Marlboro branch local, demolishing the two rear cars.

ALL IN TWO CARS.

All of the passengers killed and seriously injured were in these. The passengers lived in Concord, Mainard, Hudson, Marlboro and several smaller towns in the Assabet Valley. None of the passengers on the Montreal train were seriously hurt, but the engineer and firemen of the leading locomotive were killed.

MANY INCINERATED.

The wreckage caught fire and some of the passengers were incinerated. No person lives in the vicinity of Baker's bridge station, and no fire department was available, so that the flames practically burned themselves out. The uninjured passengers and a number of train hands, assisted by villagers, went to the aid of the injured and many persons were rescued. A special train was sent from Boston by the Boston and Maine management at 9:35 o'clock and reached here inside of a half hour. The train brought a number of doctors, while many doctors from Waltham and other places in this section were sent to the scene in carriages and by other trains.

CARING FOR THE WOUNDED.

The railroad station and a number of dwelling houses were turned into temporary hospitals, and many volunteer nurses assisted in relieving the suffering of the injured. Just before 11:30 o'clock a special train carrying those who were the most seriously hurt, who could be moved in safety, left for Boston, where arrangements were made to have all the available ambulances convey them to the hospitals.

Don't be a Walking Failure.

A close observer of men and affairs in fact an all 'round philosopher, advises people to look to their walk. It has more to do with your success or failure than you perhaps dream of. Don't strut. Walk like a man who is determined to play a man's part in life, with head erect and feet planted firmly on the ground. One may see on the streets every day many people who are walking failures. There is not the slightest energy in their movements. Their whole bearing gives testimony of their weakness. How do we know that they are failures? Nothing is simpler. There is a subtle connection between the mind and the body. The mental attitude is reflected in the spontaneous movements of the body and you can very quickly tell by a man's walk and general bearing whether his mind is alert his spirit progressive and earnest and his whole being full of life and vigor and determination or be is a slip shod, lifeless creature.

STRIKE STILL ON AT STATE

More Than 800 Students Stay Away from Classes.

The students' strike at State College to enforce a demand for a Thanksgiving vacation based on "cuts" is still on, with no sign of either the students or the faculty giving in.

Several students left town yesterday and today for their homes to spend Thanksgiving and await developments.

To make matters more complicated, Dr George W. Atherton, president is ill with pneumonia, and could not give the Students' Committee a personal hearing or confer with the faculty.

The trouble arose over the system of "cuts" and "excesses" in vogue this year under a rule promulgated at the beginning of the term.

Under that system a student is entitled to relief from class attendance a certain number of times in a term. If he exceeds the number of "cuts" he is entitled to become an "excess," a certain number of which will subject him to either suspension or dismissal.

In past years the student, by saving up his "cuts" was entitled to take the time off when he pleased. Under the present order, the faculty maintains the right to name the time when the student can be relieved.

Many of the students have been saving up their "cuts" for the purpose of getting a longer Thanksgiving vacation. Two weeks ago the students notified the faculty and requested an answer by yesterday morning.

No response being made, the students requested a conference and for almost two hours they argued the question with the faculty, but the latter refused to recede.

Then the entire body of 800 students, with the exception of the foot ball squad, refused to attend classes.

The foot ball men are attending classes in order to get away for the Thanksgiving Day game with W. U. P.

Public Spraying for Scale.

Prof. Chas. A. Heiss representing the Division of zoology, of the State Department of Agricultural, will give a public demonstration of the method of making and applying the best and cheapest remedy for the San Jose scale at Rebersburg at 9:00 a. m. on Saturday, Dec. 2nd.

All persons interested are invited to attend this demonstration, bring specimens of twigs and fruit for inspection, ask questions, and receive the help that is thus offered, free of charge by the State.

This demonstration will be given in connection with the Farmers Institute to be held at Rebersburg, on Thursday and Friday, and is at the request of Prof. Gramley and by special arrangements with Col. John A. Woodward, who is County Chairman of Institutes in Centre county. Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist of Pennsylvania, will attend the Institute Friday afternoon and evening, and will speak at each of these two sessions. At one of these meetings he will talk particularly of the San Jose Scale, showing methods of the pest and telling how to suppress it. Prof. Chas. Heiss will conduct the demonstration on Saturday morning, and examine twigs brought him and answer questions. This demonstration will be in an orchard at Rebersburg, which will be announced at the institute and also by posters in conspicuous place. Any one coming to the borough to attend the practical orchard meeting will have no trouble finding it.

One Dollar for Every Six Words He Wrote.

Think of getting a dollar bill every time you wrote six words! And yet this is exactly what Conan Doyle, known the world over by his "Sherlock Holmes" and "White Company" stories, has just been paid for his latest and (what he himself says is) his masterwork. This new $25,000 story, a companion to his "White Company," is called 'Sir Nigel," and the readers of "The Philadelphia Sunday Press" may expect the greatest treat of their lives on Sunday, December 3rd, in which issue this thrilling new romance begins exclusively. Don't fail to get "The Sunday Press" that Sunday, and every Sunday so long as this great story continues.

New Church Dedicated.

The new St. Paul's United Evangelical church of Upper Marion was dedicated on Sunday afternoon November 26th, with appropriate services. Rev. W. B. Cox, pastor of the Bellefonte church delivered an eloquent dedicatory sermon. The indebtedness on the little church was $331.00 and Rev. Cox started to raise this amount. He met with such good fortune that they raised $575.00

The new church is very pretty and attractive and Rev. J. F. Shultz is the pastor.

PRISONERS DARING ESCAPE!

FROM THE MISSOURI State Prison.

A STARTLING PLOT

In Which Five Convicts Battled for Freedom—All Were Finally Re-Captured.

THEY KILLED TWO PRISON OFFICERS

Jefferson City, Mo., November 25.—In a desperate attempt to escape from the state penitentiary Friday afternoon five convicts fought for freedom with weapons and nitro glycerine at the prison gate, killing two prison officials and wounding Deputy Warden See, and four men made a dash through the streets of Jefferson City under fire, only to be captured after two of the escaped men had been wounded.

Five prisoners, taking advantage of the absence of Warden Hall and six guards, who left with seventy-one federal prisoners for Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, attempted to escape, but only four left the prison after wrecking the gate.

Convicts Harry Vaughn, Charles Raymond, Hiram Blake, George Ryan and Eli Ziegler, who were working close inside the prison gate, having secured pistols and a bottle of nitro glycerine, entered Deputy Warden R. E. See's office and shot him in the arm and the hip as he sat in a chair. He sank back helpless and the convicts rushed to the gate, where they met Gateman John Clay, who being alarmed by the shots fired at See opened the gate to look inside. Before Clay could raise his weapon he was shot dead.

Then, as a signal to the convicts generally that an attempts to escape had been started the convicts rang the gate, bell and then rushed through the gate dragging Clay's body with them. They slammed the gate shut and fastened it while Ziegler was ringing the bell and he was left inside. The four convicts were then in the wagon entrance to the penitentiary. This entrance is forty feet long and fifteen feet wide. It leads to the public street through a second double gate of steel, which was locked. The convicts placed nitro glycerine under the outside gate and blew an opening through the steel doors. The four men crawled through this aperture and dashed through a number of "trusty" convicts who were working in the street. Almost before the four escaped convicts had covered a block prison officers were in pursuit, shooting as they ran.

Pedestrians jumped behind trees, ran into houses and crouched down behind any obstacle that presented refuge from the bullets that caused almost a panic in the streets. Several men seized weapons and joined the prison officers in the pursuit. The chase kept on for a dozen blocks, the convicts outrunning their pursuers.

Near the Missouri Pacific railway depot the convicts came up with a wagon driven by Orville Lane. Jumping into this wagon the desperadoes sized Lane and used him as a shield from the bullets of their pursuers. One convict lashed the horse into a run and escape seemed sure, when suddenly a squad of city policemen and armed citizens appeared in front of the fleeing men, who stopped the horse and made a desperate stand.

Lane was thrown to the bottom of the the wagon and crouching over him, shielding themselves as well as possible behind the sides of the vehicle the four convicts fought the policemen.

Volley after volley was fired in the street by both sides to the conflict, while residents and pedestrians fled to escape stray bullets. The policemen sheltering themselves behind trees, splintered the wagon and ploughed up the mud, finally putting a bullet through Vaughn and Blake, the latter falling to the ground, probably fatally hurt.

Then the convicts surrendered, much to the relief of Lane, who said that bullets had thrown splinters all about him. Lane and his horse and Convicts Ryan and Raymond were uninjured. The convicts were immediately taken back to the penitentiary.

$100 Reward, $100.

WARD OFF DISEASE

By fortifying your system with a reliable blood medicine. An alcoholic stimulant would do more harm than good and the reaction from it would leave you nearer complete prostration than ever before.

With stomach and blood in good order you can fight the battle of life successfully against all odds. GOLDEN SEAL ROOT (Hydrastis), is a famous remedy for dyspepsia, and QUEEN'S ROOT (Stillingia), has a direct action in promoting the renewal of the blood. Both of these are used in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in such a way, by skillful extraction, combination and solution without alcohol, that their best effects are secured.

Many years of actual practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both efficient and safe for continuous use as tonic and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of the ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle hereafter to be sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an "unknown remedy."

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets The Original LITTLE LIVER PILLS, first put up by old Dr. R. V. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. Little pill, Little dose, but give great results in a curative way in all derangements of Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

INDIAN SUMMER.

Vague Pensiveness Remarks in Stillness of Field and Wood.

This is a period of tremulous mystery, writes C. Leon Brumbaugh in the Johnstown Democrat. The beautiful Indian legend that a child born in this season would combine the quality of supreme tenderness with supreme valor had its origin perhaps in the physical nature of this splendid interval in the "snow month." This relation of meteorology with destiny was no more foolish than other people's ideas concerning the influence of the natal star, at least. If there be truth in this redman's myth of Indian summer, may the world see hosts so goodly favored! We shall then have a race of the nobility of nature.

The fascination of these hours seem to lie somewhere beyond the horizon; at any rate, it is not at one's feet and is never reached. Like the rainbow's elusive gold to the eye, it is never receding from the grasp of the soul. There is, however, a serene joy in the apparent nearness. It lies somewhere within the sphere of things that mould the soul to beauty and to hope.

A vague pensiveness remarks in the stillness of field and wood. These ghosts of the late smiling summer—the bare brown stems of flowers—haunt the memory with pictures of fair delight in form and color. The faint rustling of lifeless leaves stirs the fancy to far offsprings and points to prophecies of unborn splendor. The tinkle of wandering bird songs carries the listener on fleet wing to subdued melodies familiar and dear. Reflection is now the generalissimo of one's moods, and commands to brave thoughts and true. An unspeakable tenderness finds accent in these orders.

There is no sadness in the Indian summer. While life has ebbed, it has but retired for repose.

The hibernating mammals and batrachians have gone into dormancy. The fur beavers have their new and finest coats. Larvae have gone into their fairy cocoons and chrysalids. Birds of the summer have departed. Trees have prepared for their next burgeoning and bloom. Rootstocks are stored and children of the free fields have found couches until the call of spring. In this matter of preparation Indian summer advances matters a step so that the general resurrection will take place as soon as the republic of winter is removed.

WANT SNOW OR RAIN.

The Woods Are Too Dry for Good Deer Hunting, Says the Gunners.

The hunting season up to the present time has not been very successful, and unless rain or snow falls within a day or so the hunters will be obliged to return empty handed. Of course snow is preferred, but anything that will dampen the leaves in the woods will serve the purpose. Many hunters have already returned to await a precipitation of some kind. They all enter the same complaint—that the woods are so dry that every movement made by a hunter can be readily detected by the game. The layer of leaves crackle under the feet of the hunter and can be heard some distance, retarding successful hunting. The rabbit season has been fairly good so far. Many have been slain.

The absence of snow and the very short open season, the hunters who have returned say, will doubtless result in the saving of a big majority of the deer that are in the woods, this meaning that with a continuation of the present law giving but a fifteen day open season, this game is bound to increase very materially. The rapid rehabitation of the mountains that were denuded of timber is affording the deer natural protection, and five years hence there will be thousands upon thousands of acres in Central Pennsylvania that will give the game seclusion.

The Tree Killer.

One of the curious forest growths of the Isthmus of Panama and lower Central America in general is the vine which the Spaniards call matapalo, or "tree-killer." This vine first starts in life as a climber upon the trunks of trees, and, owing to its marvelously rapid growth, soon reaches the lower branches. At this point it first begins to put out its "feelers"—tender, harmless looking root shoots, which soon reach the ground and become as firmly fixed as the parent stem. These hundreds of additional sap tubes give the whole vine a renewed lease of life, and it begins to send out its aerial tendrils in all directions. These intwine themselves safely around every limb of the tree, ever creeping to the farthermost tips and squeezing the life out of both bark and leaf. Things go on at this rate but a short time before the forest giant is compelled to succumb to the gigantic parasite which is sapping its lifeblood. Within a very few years the tree rots and falls away, leaving the matapalo standing erect and hollow, like a monster vegetable devilfish lying upon its back with its horrid tentacles clasped together high in the air.

—Every ounce of food you eat that fails to digest does a pound of harm. It turns the entire meal into poison. This not only deprives the blood of the necessary tissue-building material, but it poisons it. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is a perfect digestant. It digests the food regardless of the condition of the stomach. It allows that organ to rest and get strong again. Relieves Belching, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Indigestion Palpatation of the Heart, etc. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

—But few people are entirely free from indigestion at this season of the year. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is not only the best remedy to use because it digests what you eat but because it also enables the digestive apparatus to assimilate and transform all foods into tissue-building blood. Kodol relieves sour stomach, heartburne, belching, and all forms of indigestion. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

Read!

In the New York Family Story Paper Charlotte May Kingsley's great romance An American Girl; or Hearts and Coronets. The subject deals with the one brought into prominence only lately by Andrew Carnegie's remark that he would not care to have a worthless British Duke marry into his family. Mrs. Kingsley depicts the American Girl true to life with all of a real American girl's abhorrence of being bartered for a title. This splendid serial begins in No. 1654 of The New York Family Story Paper. To enable all to read this fascinating romance we will send you a copy of the paper, containing the opening instalment, free of all charge. Send your name and address on a postal card to The New York Family Story Paper, 24-26 Vandewater street, New York city.

FIRST IN THE FIELD

st commenced in the New York Family Story paper

A Modern Bluebeard

or the adventures of a Female Sherlock Holmes a realistic romance founded on fact by Fanny May. You who have been reading the daily papers can easily imagine how the thought came to the author's mind to write this story. Though purely a romance, many of its most sensational and dramatic scenes are based on fact. It is a startling expose of a wicked man's wiles. This realistic romance begins in No. 1644 of THE NEW YORK FAMILY STORY PAPER

DEARLY BOUGHT FREEDOM.

Terrible Price Jews In Russia Are Paying.

Through Dr. Fishberg the Jewish Daily News of New York recently received a letter describing some of the details of the Jewish massacres in Russia from S. Rabinowitz, who under the pen name of Sholom Aleichem (Peace to You) is one of the best known Jewish writers in Russia. Mr. Rabinowitz's letter is dated from the Imperial hotel in Kiev, and he says in part:

"Your letter brought me here, where, together with a number of families, I, with my wife and children, are cowering under a storm of leaden bullets that are being fired over our heads, so that we shall remain powerless, useless, paralyzed. It is well nigh impossible, it is a herculean task, to describe what has happened here. I will tell it to you in boldest terms:

"On the 17th we were 'presented' with the constitution for which our brothers spilled their blood like water. On the same day a rumor was spread abroad that orders had been given to attack the Jews, and the attack began from all sides. Simultaneously an order was issued that we should not shoot from the windows and not throw stones. If we should do that the soldiers would fire back and destroy our houses.

"Seeing soldiers on the street and Cossacks, we felt reassured; they will surely help us. And they did help, but not us. They helped to rob, to beat, to ravish, to despoil. Before our eyes and in the eyes of the whole world they helped to smash windows, break down doors, break locks and to put booty in their pockets. Before our eyes and in the eyes of our children they beat Jews grievously, men, women and children, and they shouted: 'Money! Give us your money!' Before our eyes women were hurled from windows and children thrown to the cobblestones.

"No; my hand trembles. The pen will not obey. I can write no more. The local newspapers publish only one-hundredth part of the frightful details of the happenings in Kiev. Now imagine what is happening in hundreds of Jewish towns and villages! Too dear will our freedom cost us, and God only knows whether we will live to enjoy this freedom.

"The tyrant will not surrender his rod. The swords are being sharpened—bitter. In God's name, brethren, help. To act, to help, to resist—that we are not permitted. For the life of one drunken brute that we take when he attacks our wives and our children we pay with hundreds of innocent lives.

"What shall we do? No place to hide. Gentiles will not give shelter to Jews. Even the millionaires, the Brodshyks and the Zeitzhoffs, threw themselves to the feet of their friends, the Christians. Their friends asked to be excused. Brother, do something. Publish this in the English as well as the Jewish press. Well, then, if I cannot be saved, if I must die, I am ready. Perhaps it is better that I shall fall a sacrifice with the rest. My people are being consumed; the whole Russian Jewry is in danger."

Spanks by Electricity.

An electrical paddling machine invented by Professor Dennis is now in operation in the public school in East Penna, a suburb of Peoria, Ill., says a dispatch from that place. The mode of operation is to place the recalcitrant pupil over a chair near the spanking machine, press a button, and the flow of electricity starts a series of paddles in operation which play upon the anatomy of the spankee. Residents of the village have protested and declare they will take their children from school if the use of the machine is not stopped.

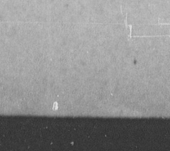
Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.



The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood.

If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

W. E. Curtis Describes Wireless Telegraphy's Great Strides.

THE BEST TESTS MADE AT NIGHT

Messages Heard 1,050 Miles During Voyage of the President's Cruiser From New Orleans to Washington. Navy Department Experimenting With All Systems Except Marconi's.

Doubtless everybody has read the remarkable stories that have been published concerning the conversations that were kept up between the cruisers of Admiral Brownson's fleet and the wireless telegraph stations on shore during the president's recent trip from New Orleans to Washington, writes William E. Curtis, the Chicago Record-Herald's Washington correspondent. It was altogether the most successful and satisfactory test of this mysterious method of communication that has ever been made and demonstrated its value to the naval service and to the merchant marine. Only a few days after, when Admiral Evans was on his way to New York with the North Atlantic squadron, the officials at the navy department remembered something they wanted to ask him. They called him up by the wireless apparatus at the Washington navy yard when he was 200 miles away and sailing northward off the coast of Maryland. He answered promptly, and a conversation lasting more than half an hour was carried on, in which every message was received and every word was understood on both sides.

Nor was there any difficulty in finding him. The operator at the navy yard touched his key and called for the battleship Maine just as one might shout from a window at a crowd of men in the street or a bird might cry to its mate. I do not know how it was done. It is difficult for a layman to understand the mysteries of electricity. The operator was in a coop at the navy yard, Admiral Evans was on the high seas, but the operator on the deck of the Maine heard the call the moment it was uttered and sent down to the admiral's cabin to tell "Fighting Bob" that the navy department wanted to talk to him at the telephone, for it was merely a telephonic message, carried by invisible wings across the sand hills of Maryland, Chesapeake bay, the eastern shore and sixty or seventy miles of salty ocean. If Galileo had done that in the fifteenth century, what might his fate have been?

But the tests during the president's voyage were even more remarkable. The wireless instrument on the flagship West Virginia was in continuous communication with the other vessels of the fleet and with the shore stations all the way from New Orleans to Norfolk, and one night, with the flagship 225 miles west of Key West, the conversation between its operator and the other vessels of the fleet was read at the navy yard in Washington just as plainly as if it were going on in the next room. There could be no mistake, for the messages have since been compared and verified. That conversation was heard at a distance of 1,050 statute miles through the air, over land as well as sea, and it was only a few seconds passing the Piedmont country and through all of the south Atlantic states. The New York navy yard caught one message, and the De Forest station on Manhattan Beach caught another.

work as well in the daytime as it does after dark, and ordinarily long distanced messages can be read at night only. Experience shows that the range at night is three times as long as that during the day because of reasons not yet definitely determined. The explanation generally accepted is that the rays of the sun ionize the atmosphere. That is a new word—"ionize"—and has been built to describe certain meteorological conditions under which the atoms of atmosphere are more widely separated than usual or are less in sympathy, which causes a species of induction—that is (to make it plainer), the atmosphere is not so good a conductor of electric currents while the sun is shining through it as it is after dark. It loses certain qualities required for long range messages and absorbs the electric fluid. The experts admit that this is a very unsatisfactory explanation, but it is the best one they have at present. However, facts are facts, and wireless telegraphy does not carry its messages so far or so distinctly during the day as it does at night.

The longest distance over which a wireless message was ever heard by the operators of the navy department was on the night of Oct. 31, when Manhattan Beach station on Long Island heard the operator at San Juan, Porto Rico, 1,600 miles away. The operator at Colon, on the isthmus of Panama, a few days ago read messages passing between the operator at Key West and the steamer Concho of the Mallory line, running between Galveston and New York. He was 1,200 miles away. The Concho has only a small equipment, but it acts perfectly. The operator at Colon heard the operator on the Concho trying to wake up Key West. The signal was very faint, and the Key West operator replied:

"Fix your spark, man; fix your spark!"

The Concho was silent for a moment or two, after which the conversation was resumed, and Colon heard it distinctly.

The operators at Newport and St. Augustine frequently talk at night, but have never been able to do so in the daytime. Some nights are better than others. Cool, clear, calm weather is the best far long range messages if not attended by local electrical disturbances. The navy department is carrying on every night a continuous test between New York, Washington, St. Augustine, Key West, Guantanamo, San Juan (Porto Rico), Colon and other points, and operators along the coast are listening attentively all the while to catch what they can.

As soon as the government naval system is complete there will be regular intercommunication for experimental purposes from Panama to Portland, Me., by way of Galveston and New Orleans and also by way of Guantanamo and San Juan and Key West. There will be a chain of wireless stations along both coasts and throughout the West Indies on the Atlantic side, while on the Pacific side they will stretch from San Diego to Bellingham bay and to Honolulu, Guam and Manila. Power houses are now being erected at all of the places named, and it is hoped that within a few months it will be possible for the president to talk with the governor general of the Philippines by wireless telegraphy any night that he has anything to say. It is now possible for the secretary of the navy to communicate with vessels at sea within 200 miles of the Atlantic coast and under exceptionally good conditions at a distance of 500 miles.

Lieutenant Robinson of the bureau of equipment of the navy department, who has had charge of the experiments, is confident that it will be possible to send messages to vessels at sea a distance of a thousand miles when the system is perfected and says that the possibilities of range are growing wider and wider as the experiments continue. The navy department now has stations in operation at the following points: Cape Elizabeth, Me.; Portsmouth (N. H.) navy yard; Cape Ann, Mass.; Boston navy yard; Cape Cod (Highland light); Nantucket shoals lightship; Newport torpedo station; Montauk Point, N. Y.; New York navy yard; Highlands of Navesink, N. J.; Annapolis Naval academy; Washington navy yard; Norfolk navy yard; Cape Henry, Va.; Diamond shoals lightship; Pensacola navy yard; San Juan, Porto Rico; Culebra, West Indies; Guantanamo, Cuba; Colon, Panama; Mare island, Cal.; Farallon islands, Cal.; Yerba Buena island, Cal.; Honolulu naval station and Guam. The following stations are in the course of installation: Cape Henlopen; Beaufort, N. C.; Charleston, S. C.; New Orleans; Puget sound navy yard and Cavite, P. I.

The navy department is experimenting with all systems, Marconi's only excepted. It has never been able to do business with him. He offered to equip all of the ships and stations desired for the sum of $50,000 a year on condition that his system should be used exclusively, but the secretary of the navy refused to consider such a proposition.

BURIED IN 40-TON STEEL INGOT

Odd Funeral of Workmen Who Were Overwhelmed In Molten Steel.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20. — A funeral without a parallel in this city took place at the Midvale Steel works, where a 40-ton ingot of steel, permeated with the flesh, blood and bones of two workmen, was buried with the solemn rites of the Roman Catholic church. The workmen who were so strangely laid away were John Forkin and Joseph Gazda, two foreign-speaking laborers, who met a horrible death a week ago. They were in a pit near a cupola containing many tons of molten steel. A plug gave way and 80,000 pounds of the fiery fluid poured from the cupola and overwhelmed them. The men were completely incinerated and not a trace of themselves nor their clothing was left.

The Midvale Steel company was averse to selling the steel or using it for the purpose it was intended, and it was decided to bury it with the rites of the church to which the unfortunate men belonged. Accordingly the 40-ton ingot, oval in shape, 28 feet long, 6 feet wide and 5 feet thick, was moved by a travelling crane to the rear of the machine shop, where a grave 10 feet deep had been made.

A great crowd sought admission to the works, but only the two sisters of Gazda, who depended upon him for support, and about 100 workmen who were on Sunday duty, were permitted to attend the services, along with the officials of the company. Forkin had no relations in this country. All heads were bared and flags were lowered to half staff while two priests conducted the services. After the sisters of Gazda had been led away the great ingot was covered with earth and the funeral party dispersed. The grave of the men will be appropriately marked by the company.

California Peaches In Cold Storage.

Peaches from various points in California are being shipped to Stockton and placed in cold storage, says the San Francisco Call. A large ice company has found by experimenting that it can freeze peaches and keep them three months easily. Last year the experiment was made successfully, and this year the company has engaged in storing fruit as a business. Already there are 5,000 boxes of peaches on ice at the local point. The greater part of them came from the warm regions of Fresno. These peaches were picked moderately green. By freezing them they are kept from ripening. Three months from now they will be placed upon the market either in California or in the east. Soon after the fruit is taken off the ice it ripens nicely. By selecting a late variety of peaches it may be possible to preserve them till Christmas.

EARLE C. TUTEN.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3 1905

Secretary Shaw has given it out to some personal friend that there will be no call in the coming Presidential message for fresh financial legislation so far as he is concerned. He has not given any figures, but states that the condition of the country is much better than during the last fiscal year and that the deficit which was then something like $24,000,000 will be considerably reduced. Secrtary Shaw has been called upon by a number of business delegations that feared the imposition of fresh taxes and he assured them all that he was not in favor of upsetting the business conditions by any fresh financial legislation at this time. This assurance has been very grateful to the industries that thought they were threatened and is in line with the stand that had been taken by Speaker Cannon and the leaders in the Senate against any attempt at financial legislation just now. Whether the message will contain any recommendations for tariff revision, it is of course impossible to say. It is known that next to railway rate legislation, the President is most anxious for tariff legislation, but in view of the bad prospect for legislation except of the most necessary sort and the many other matters clamoring for attention, it is possible that the matter will be allowed to go for the time being and will be dealt with in a special message later on.

There is a fear expressed in some quarters that the canal situation may have an unfavorable effect on the financial showing of the country. It is stated that before Congress passes the canal bond bill, the canal commission will have contracted liabilities amounting to fully $16,000,000 that will have to be met by the close of the coming fiscal year. It is the intention of the Commission to pay back this money into the Treasury out of the proceeds of the bond sale, but there will be some delay in issuing the bonds as the basis of national bank circulation. They were not so made by the Spooner Act and it is recognized that they are to bring much above par or even that.

There has been some discussion as to whether the Panama Canal Commission was authorized to go on with the work and contract bills in excess of the $10,000,000 already appropriated. But the matter was laid before both Secretary Taft and Chairman Shonts and they both agreed that under the Spooner Act the President was empowered to go ahead with the construction of the canal certainly up to the limit of the $135,000,000 authorized in the bond issue in addition to the $10,000,000 already granted. The board of consulting engineers of the canal have already held their last meeting before reassembling in Brussels where the report will be finally signed. They will sail before the end of the month.

A telegram was received by the Secretary of the Navy from Anapolis this afternoon requesting that he order the exhumation and an autopsy upon the body of the late midshipman J. B. Branch, who was killed in a glove fight at the Naval Academy. The decision to hold the autopsy was sudden and one of the sensational features of the trial which is regarded as a very important one. The Secretary has not announced his decision but there is no doubt that the request of the court martial trial board will be complied with.

Baby No. 18.

Baby number eighteen came to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Horner, living on the Jacob Bottorf farm, near Linden Hall, a short time ago, and the parents are just as proud of the last child as any parents ever were of their first born.

Mrs. Horner is forty-one years old, the first child having been born when she was twenty. The father is a trifle older. The eighteen children were all born singly, except one pair of twins, and thirteen are living today.

Mrs. Horner is grandmother of three children. Last week her eldest son was married.

Must Pay 10 Cents a Pole.

In the suit of the United Telegraph and Telephone company against the borough of Carlisle Judge Sadler handed down an opinion fixing the annual tax on telegraph poles in the borough at ten cents each instead of 75 cents each, as previously fixed by the town council. This is the first decision in Pennsylvania under the recent law giving the courts power to thus fix the tax, and it is said will apply to all similar cases in the state.

Hog Cholera.

The west end of Harris Twp., between Boalsburg and the Ferguson township line, is having a scourge of hog cholera which broke out in the summer and is quite serious at this time. Among the losers are the following farmers:

Amos Koch 18 hogs and has only two left, Geise Thomas 5, Adam Smith 5. Earnest Hess 5, Samuel Bailey 5. There are quite a number of others who have lost hogs by the disease, whose names we do not have

All remedies used to check the disease have proved unavailing, and considerable alarm exists among farmers up there.

Frank Deshon's Funny Farce.

Music and hilarity will be dominant here in a few weeks when Frank Deshon than whom there is no funnier man on the contemporary stage, will offer his musical comedy "The Office Boy." His company is said to comprise half a hundred persons, and being under the immediate management of the astute Nixon & Zimmerman, who keep right on absorbing desirable attractions, it is a fair presumption that everything possible has been done to give the enterprise vogue It is known that Deshon was one of the solid successes of last year, and his present piece is spoken of as something exceptionally brilliant in light and graceful music. With a happy conceit in the way of a characteristic Deshon part and many amusing comedy situations. A handsome production is also promised and there is every reason to believe that it will be a notable contributien to the gaities of the season.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mothers look forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of their children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in times of illness among the children.

The doctors may come and go with their different theories and constant change of remedies.

The doctor of years ago gave entirely different remedies than he does today.

Each year finds some change in his prescriptions and in the drugs he relies upon.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Peruna is the stand-by, and that in all the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will most quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peruna quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Peruna is not a physic. Peruna is not a nervine nor a narcotic. Peruna does not produce any drug habit, however long it may be taken. Peruna is not a stimulant.

Peruna is a specific remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem,

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it always rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files bushels of testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peruna that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peruna, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blasting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Peruna are doing a great work for humanity.

These children brought up to believe in Peruna from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peruna with unquestioning faith.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Peruna is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of catarrh will be prevented.

Mrs. Thresa Rooke, 258 N. Ashland Ave., Chicago, Ill., Treasurer Ladies' of the Maccabees, writes:

"In our home Peruna is the only medicine we have. Grandmother, mother, father and child, all have used Peruna. It is our great remedy for catarrh of the stomach and head, colds, and female complaints of which it has cured me.

"We find it of great value when my husband becomes worn out or catches cold. A couple of doses cure him.

"If the baby has colic, or any stomach disorders, a dose or two cures her. "I consider Peruna finer than any doctor's medicine that I have ever tried, and I know that as long as we have it in the house, we will all be able to keep in good health."--Thresa Rooke.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 927 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peruna. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctored with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good.

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peruna.

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him so we tried Peruna as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."--Edward Otto.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong.

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Peruna, and we shall always praise Peruna and use it in our family when needed.

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."—G. H. Farmer.

Mr. Howard Andrew Sterner, Muddy Creek, Pa., writes:

"I have Peruna in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup.

"I have introduced Peruna into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already."—Howard Andrew Sterner.

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peruna should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Peruna on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Mrs. Amelia Sailer, Menasha, Wis., writes:

"I have used Peruna for a number of years. It cured me of chronic catarrh which I suffered with from infancy.

"When my three children were born they all had catarrh, but I have given them Peruna and find it very effective in ridding them of this horrible trouble. I find that it is also good to give them as a tonic and a preventative of colds and colic.

"In fact, I consider it a household blessing. I would not know how to raise my children without it. I am pleased to give it my recommendation."---Amelia Sailer.

CARRIES INSURANCE

This in Sum of $400.000 on His Own Life and $100,000 on Members of His Family.

HE RECEIVED AGENTS COMMISSION.

New York, Nov. 23.—After being on the witness stand before the Armstrong legislative committee on insurance investigation for the greater part of three days, Geo. E Tarbell, second vice president of the Equitable Life Assurance society, finished his testimony Wednesday and just before adjournment submitted a list of suggestions for the remedy of existing abuses in the management of insurance companies and for legislation designed to give the state proper control over the companies and to insure the confidence of the policy holders. Prominent among these suggestions was absolute publicity. While admitting that wrong had been done by life insurance officials Mr Tarbell said that he had no apologies to make for any of them and that he hoped they would be punished.

Mr Tarbell was on the stand the entire day and was questioned as to the system of agencies and the commissions and other compensations allowed them for getting business. Just before the recess the fact was brought out that Mr. Tarbell had taken out insurance on his own life and on members of his family and had received the agent's commission on the premiums as well as renewal commission He said that since he became an officer he had taken out $100,000 on his own life in the Equitable. Besides his policies in the Equitable he had taken insurance in the New York Life, the arrangement being made with Geo. W. Perkins and on this, too, he received the commission on the premiums. He has also a policy in the Aetna and the Traveler's on all of which he collected the commissions. He said he carried $400,000 on members of his family.

Mr. Tarbell was emphatic in denouncing the system of rebating by agents and stated that any agent of the Equitable who gave rebates to get business was dismissed. When he told of getting the commissions Assemblyman Cox asked if that was not rebating, and Mr. Tarbell said it was not, that he thought he was entitled to it.

Later when Mr. Hughes took up this same subject with the witness, the latter justified the taking of the commissions as being similar to the case of a merchant who purchased goods of a fellow merchant in the same line, perhaps to fill an order, and got those goods at cost, or of a professional man treating another and charging less than the regular fees. Witness said further that the commissions were paid to get the business and that when the business was done without soliciting there was no expense and that therefore he was entitled to these commissions.

Mr. Tarbell further said if he had done wrong he was sorry, but that he had acted in good faith.

Mr. Tarbell bore out in a measure the statement of James Hazen Hyde, when on the stand relative to the fairness of the Frick report. The subject of advances to agents was under investigation and Mr. Hughes read some figures of the amount of advances to one agent in this city. Mr. Hughes asked where the Frick committee got the figures and Mr. Tarbell replied with marked asperity that he did not know. "They did not get them from my department or the auditors, they made their report without ever making an investigation of the department," he said.

There Was a Limit.

An Irishman one day went into the shop of a barber to get shaved. After being properly seated and the lather about half applied the barber was called to an adjoining room, where he was detained for some time. The barber had in his shop a pet monkey, which was continually imitating its master, As soon as the latter left the room the monkey grabbed the brush and proceeded to finish lathering the Irishman's face, After doing this he took a razor from its case and stropped it and then turned to the Irishman to shave him.

"Shtop that," said Pat. "Ye can tuck the towel in me neck and put the soap on me face, but begorrah, yer father's got to shave me !"

COUNTRY MERCHANTS.

Are Kicking Against Numbering Rural Mail Boxes.

In regard to the mail order business a recent ruling of the postoffice department is arousing considerable opposition, and it would seem, just opposition, among the country merchants. It has been decided by the government that all rural free delivery boxes must be numbered. This scheme, the country merchants claim, is part of a conspiracy of the mail order houses and great city stores to invade the field of the small town storekeeper.

The postoffice officials have realized that the opposition is developing into a serious one, and are going slowly in the matter. If rural mail boxes were numbered consecutively and mail would be delivered to them by number it would open to the mail order people a magnificent opportunity. It is almost a regulation of the department that a rural route must have not less than 100 patrons before it will be established. So a mail order house would be safe in addressing, for every rural route number from 1 to 100, and the list of rural routes, which is to be obtained from official source without difficulty, would be the only thing necessary in order to reach with circulars millions of possible customers.

There is little doubt that the plan would be in effect now but for the opposition its discussions caused. Postal officials who want the parcel post plan adopted believe it will be a long step in that direction, and patrons of rural routes generally favor it. The country merchants stand alone in opposition, but they have immense power. Every country town interest stands with them. Their political influence is immense, and if it should come to a matter of legislation it is extremely doubtful whether they could be defeated.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. The Kind You Have Always Bought

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co. Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Hotel to be Enlarged.

The Centre Hall hotel will be enlarged by Landlord Runkle, part of the work being planned for this fall, and to be finished in the spring. The first floor space of the hotel has been inadequate for some years, and since the hotel has been heated throughout by Mr. Runkle and other improvements made, the business has increased to such an extent that expansion is absolutely necessary. The large store room now occupied by Mr. Boozer, the saddler, will be refitted and the front used for a waiting room, and the rear for a bar room. The old bar room will be added to the dining room.

To the south of the building an addition of about eighteen feet, two stories high, will be erected. The first floor will be used by Mr. Boozer and the second will be cut into sleeping rooms.—Centre Reporter.

Northern Colonies in the South.

The South is the modern "Land of Promise." Its growth in population and wealth in the past decade has been marvelous; but the record of the next decade will be still more marvelous.

We are reminded of this by the receipt of "The Southern Colonist," a neatly printed and handsomely illustrated magazine, devoted to the development of the South in general, and specifically to the organization and location of Colonies and industries on the co-operative plan. It is full of interesting matter, including a practical plan, whereby people of limited means may secure homes, farms, business opportunities or employment. A copy will be sent to any address on receipt of a two-cent stamp, by the Southern Land & Development Co., 140 Nassau Street, New York.

IRELAND FOR THE IRISH

Gaelic League's President Tells of National Movement.

WOULD REVITALIZE HIS PEOPLE.

Dr. Douglas Hyde Wants to Make Them Feel That They Do Not Have to Seek Other Countries—Predicts Emigration Will Almost Entirely Cease In a Few Years.

New York got an introduction recently to the chief promoter of the Irish millennium—the time when all the Irishmen will live in Ireland, says the New York Times.

He is Dr. Douglas Hyde, president of the Gaelic league, 100,000 strong. He has come to the United States to teach what he has been teaching in Ireland for fifteen years—that Irishmen shall know themselves. His slogan is Irish independence of intellect. In Celtic this is "Sinn Fein Amhain." In English it means "Ourselves Alone." Dr. Hyde organized the Gaelic league ten years ago. He is a western Irishman of thoughtful mind and active body.

"The philosophy of the whole movement in behalf of the intellectual independence of Ireland," he said the other night, "is to interest Irishmen in something—anything at all, tending to improve the mind; to get Irishmen absorbed in their own country, to make them stay there and to recover those who have left. We want, in a word, to revitalize the island and the people. We want Ireland to be what it was years ago, a country of character, of magnificent people, of promise and of grandeur of intellect and industry.

"Up to a few years ago Ireland had forgotten that it had a history or literature or music. Irishmen had been taught for three generations the history of England. Instruction in the Irish language was not permitted in the primary schools. The average Irishman when he wanted to sing something would chant the English 'Tar-ra-ra-boom-de-ay' or some other English music hall ditty. Today he is singing 'Believe Me, if All Those Endearing Young Charms,' and other of the old Irish ballads. When he wanted to read something he would select a class of literature on a par with your 'Nick Carter' or 'Old Sleuth.' Today he is reading Charles Lever and Samuel Lover.

"This is what we have been encouraging for the last ten years, and we are succeeding. The Gaelic league now has 100,000 members or more. They are the men who are telling Ireland to know itself. And of that 100,000 they are almost to a man total abstainers from intoxicating drink, which, you will appreciate, means a world to the future of the race.

"I came over to lay before the Irish in America just what we have been doing at home. We have worked a tremendous revolution in Ireland. It has no political significance yet. It is simply an intellectual fight at this stage. What it may lead to can be conjectured. Our work is to effect the self centering and self reliance of Ireland.

"We are effecting a great intellectual upheaval. The people are beginning to interest themselves in the country as they never did before. For three generations they have had no country. They were treated by England as the mongrels of civilization. They were taught that they had no race and that they were a little bit of everything, mostly English. But we are teaching them better. Today 3,000 of the 10,000 Irish schools are teaching the Irish language. The young are being taught to converse in their native tongue. When at home I speak it altogether. Thousands of Irishmen are doing the same thing.

"The English government is doing everything possible to suppress the movement. It wants a benighted Ireland. Formerly the government allowed the payment of 'result fees,' based upon the results accomplished in our schools. A few years ago these fees, based on the teaching of the Irish language, amounted to less than £1,000 a year. Today they amount to £12,000 a year. That amount represented a one hundred and fiftieth part of the money spent upon Irish education. Now they have taken it away from us. Is that right? The Irish people ought to have that money, no matter how they want to use it, even if they wanted to spend it in blowing soap bubbles. England doesn't want Ireland to retain its language, the oldest vernacular except the Greek in Europe, or any other hereditary characteristic. But we will have them all. They shall be rejuvenated.

"The movement will help Ireland industrially. Already mills and factories, especially those engaged in the cloth trades, are swelling in prosperity. Irishmen are now able to get work at home, and in a few years more I predict that emigration will almost entirely cease. Today 40,000 of our best young Irish men and women of the marriageable type leave Ireland for America every year. This drain will eventually cease. And I look to see many Irish in this country return to their native soil. Our movement must and will succeed."

Telephone Socials In Kansas.

A new social function has been invented by the farmers of Dickinson county, says a dispatch from Abilene, Kan., to the Kansas City Star. When the telephone owners south of the river wished to build a line to connect with the line north of the river they gave a box social instead of making an assessment. They cleared $40 and built the line. The farmers have more than a thousand telephones in operation in Dickinson county.

BRYAN'S GUIDE IN JAPAN.

How the Nebraskan's Japanese Godson Is Repaying His Kindness.

Yamachita Yaschichuro, widely known as "Bryan's Jap," is now acting as official guide for W. J. Bryan in his journey through Japan and is enjoying an opportunity of repaying in part the hospitality he received for several years at Mr. Bryan's home, says a dispatch from Lincoln, Neb. Miss Grace Bryan and William J. Bryan, Jr., have been guests at the home of Yamachita in Tokyo, while Mr. and Mrs. Bryan have been entertained by Field Marshal Ito.

Yamachita has been married since his return to Japan last year and has a home in Tokyo which Miss Bryan characterizes as "too cunning for anything." He has become prominent as a speaker and is achieving his ambition of becoming identified with the politics of Japan.

The young Japanese came to America about seven years ago to obtain an education. He had little money, but a vast amount of perseverance. For a time he was a student in the University of California, in Berkeley. He came to the conclusion that W. J. Bryan was the great man of the country and left Berkeley to make the Nebraskan his godfather.

In Japan it is the custom for every youth who desires a higher learning and is without the means of educating himself to go to the dwelling of the greatest man of his neighborhood and there prostrate himself with his forehead on the threshold until found and taken within the house. Then, if the youth proved to be worthy, it is the duty of the great man to adopt him as a godson, make him a member of his own household and aid him in every way to obtain a good education.

Yamachita reached Lincoln one afternoon in the summer of 1900 and gave his last coin to a messenger boy to guide him to the home of the "great man." There the young Japanese prostrated himself on the threshold and waited. Nobody was at home. Mrs. Bryan and the children were out of town, and Mr. Bryan was on a campaigning tour. The afternoon deepened into night, but the Japanese boy knelt on the threshold until at last, overcome by fatigue, he fell asleep.

Mr. Bryan reached Lincoln about 2 o'clock the next morning, was driven to his residence and hurried up the steps. At the doorway he stumbled over the Japanese, collared him, dragged him into the house and turned on the light. The almond eyes of the Japanese sleepily blinked up at him.

"You Mr. Bryan. You great man," said Yamachita. "I come to stay!"

"To stay!" echoed Mr. Bryan, and in his amazement he relaxed his grip on the youth's collar.

Yamachita knelt at his feet, still smiling. Yes; I come to stay. You greatest man in America. You be my godfather and help me grow wise, most worshipful and illustrious one."

"All right. Let's go to bed," said Mr. Bryan. He showed the youth a room, and for more than four years Yamachita was an inmate of the Bryan household. In the University of Nebraska Yamachita was one of the most industrious students. He gained his bachelor's degree in 1904 and that fall sailed for Japan.

CORNS ON THEIR EARS.

Pittsburg Telephone Operators Say Receivers Disfigure Them.

Telephone girls in Pittsburg are deserting their employment because they find constant wearing of the receiver produces ugly corns on the tragus, the front portion of the external ear, says a special dispatch from Pittsburg to the Philadelphia Press. They also say their sense of hearing is more acutely developed in the left ear than in the right.

They do not mind this so much as they do the disfigurement, which betrays their occupation.

In order to prevent the girls leaving, the company is endeavoring to devise receivers that will not produce corns.

Danced For Seats at Dinner.

Dancing for their seats was the novel performance through which the dinner guests of a London woman went recently, says the New York Press. On assembling in the dining room they found there were chairs for only half the number, but there were spaces between these chairs for as many more. A pianist struck up a dance, and the men and women circled about the room, the women going one way, the men another. When the music stopped every woman sat down promptly in the chair nearest her and the men stepped into the spaces between the chairs. Then the chairs for the men were pushed forward, and dinner was begun in a glow of spirits such as ordinarily are not in evidence before a repast is well under way.

Washing Silk Underwear.

Directions for washing silk underwear have been asked for. The same precautions that are used in washing fine woolens need to be taken with silk. Prepare a suds of white soap and fairly hot water, and add to each gallon of water two tablespoonfuls of ammonia. If the ammonia is strong use only one tablespoonful. Let the garments soak in the suds for some time, half an hour or longer. Wash by rubbing with the hands and gently squeezing. Never rub on a board, and never rub soap on the silk unless some spots are unusually obstinate. Rinse thoroughly. This means through two or three waters, the same temperature as the washing water. Iron when nearly dry. If the garments are very delicate press under a thin muslin.

GRANGERS FAVOR TEMPERANCE

"Every Community Should Be Empowered to Vote Saloon From Its Midst."

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 21.—The National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, went on record in favor of temperance and the curtailing of saloons, declaring "that they should be abridged until they are abolished." A resolution says: "Every community should be empowered by law to vote every saloon from its midst or its borders." The grange strongly condemned all influences brought to win legislation by lobbyists or others, and deplored the use of money in campaigns. "The recent agitation," says a resolution, "and investigations in regard to extravagance in the management of our great financial institutions, the exposure of graft in high places and the enormous power exercised by great transportation companies through combined arrangements have aroused the people to a realization of the necessities of vigorous action if they would protect themselves against the inordinate desires of wealth."

Among other resolutions adopted during the day was one strongly urging congress to enact a law to prohibit the making of cigarette papers, as well as cigarettes. The grangers endorsed the establishment of country high schools by a combination of district schools.

Will Enforce Patent Medicine Law.

Among the varius alcoholic compounds now on the market, advertised and sold as medicine under the name of whisky, bitters, tonic, cordials, etc., there are some that are composed chiefly of distilled spirits, or mixtures thereof, without the addition of drugs or medicinal ingredients in sufficient quantities to change materially the character of the alcoholic liquor.

All druggists and merchants handling such articles are subject to a special tax. The law goes into effect December 1st, 1905, and Deputy Revenue Collector G. W. Rees is now making his rounds notifying druggists and merchants of the fact.

—No pills as pleasant and positive as DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These Famous Little Pills are so mild and effective that children, delicate ladies and weak people enjoy their cleansing effect while strong people say they are the best liver pills sold. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

—Itching piles provoke profanity, but profanity won't cure them. Doan's Ointment cures itching, bleeding or protruding piles after years of suffering. At any drug store.

—A Cough Syrup which drives a cold out of the system by acting as a cathartic on the bowels is offered in Kennedy's Laxative Honey Tar. Clears the throat, strengthens the lungs and bronchial tubes. The mother's friend and the children's favorite. Best for Croup, Whooping Cough etc. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

—Nature needs only a Little Early Riser now and then to keep the bowels clean, the liver active and the system free from bile, headaches, constipation, etc. The famous little pills "Early Risers" are pleasant in effect and perfect in action. They never grippe or sicken, but tone and strengthen the liver and kidneys. Sold by Green's Pharmacy.

—If you haven't time to exercise regularly, Doan's Regulets will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, easy, healthful action of the bowels without griping. Ask your druggist for them. 25c.

$25,000.00 Given Away.

In the past year Dr. R. V. Pierce has given away copies of his great work, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser at an expense to him of $25,000 00 exclusive of postage. This standard book on medicine and hygine, contains 1008 pages and more than 700 illustrations. It treats of the greatest and greatest problems of human life in simple English, from a common sense point of view. It answers those questions of sex which linger unspoken upon the lips of youth and maiden. It is essentially a family book, and its advice in a moment of sudden illness or accident may be the means of saving a valuable life. This great work is sent absolutely free on receipt of stamps to defray the cost of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper binding or 31 stamps for cloth covers. Address Dr. R. V. Lucky Corry

Corry is a fortunate town politically. The fish hatchery there gets an appropriation of $10,000; the schools $5,000, the hospital $4,000, and added to this the saleries of Hon. I. B. Brown, secretary of internal affairs, Captain M. N. Baker, deputy factory inspector; F. E. Mulkie, state bank examiner, W. W. Morgaridge, of the bureau of railroad statistics, and Miss Glenn Myer, stenographer. The salary-paid these state employes, together with the appropriations above mentioned, amount to about $30,000 a year.

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

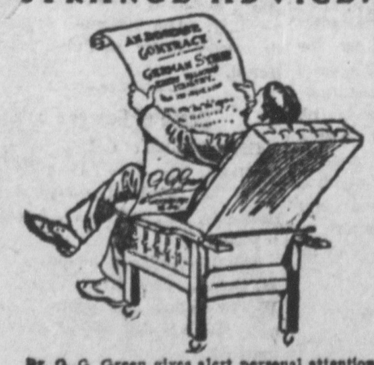
STRANGE ADVICE!



Dr. G. G. Green gives alert personal attention to his great humanitarian contract.

¶In our Almanac for many years past we have given unusual advice to those afflicted with coughs, colds, throat or lung troubles or consumption. We have told them if they did not receive any special benefit after the use of one 75-cent size bottle of German Syrup, to consult their doctor. ¶We did not ask them or urge them to use a large number of bottles, as is the case in the advertising of many other remedies. Our confidence in German Syrup makes it possible for us to give such advice. ¶We know by the experience of over 35 years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. ¶New trial bottles, 25c.; regular size, 75c. Green's Pharmacy.

One Source of Mouth and Throat Disease.

If a man insists that he must use tobacco he ought, in justice to himself, to make certain that the article he buys, whether cigars, smoking tobacco or snuff, is of good quality, and contains nothing that will render the product more injurious that it naturally is.

Take an article of food—flour, for instance, as an illustration. How many of us would eat bread that we know had been made from flour that had been tramped upon by people wearing dirty shoes, or that had been handled by persons afflicted with communicable diseases? The ordinary rules of hygiene and of health demand that our food supplies shall be clean, free from adulterants and uncontaminated by foreign substances of every kind. One difference between tobacco and flour is that the former is a nerve stimulant and the latter is a food for the nourishment of the body. Both are taken into the mouth, the one for the purpose of smoking or chewing, and the other for mastication,

Within the last ten years there has been developed in this country such a demand for cheap tobacco that certain manufacturers have resorted to all sorts of schemes to supply it. The most pernicious practice connected with the industry is the use of scrap and refuse tobacco which formerly was either given to farmers for fertilizing purposes, or was sold for three or four cents a pound to the makers of insect powders. This waste tobacco is now in such demand among the manufacturers of cheap chewing and smoking tobacco that the price has been forced up to twelve cents a pound.

What is scrap tobacco? It is composed of the cuttings and fragments of tobacco leaves that are discarded by the workmen in making cigars. As far as quality is concerned the scraps are just as good as the tobacco contained in the cigars, and if kept clean would be no more harmful. But they are not kept clean and that is why their use in cheap products is highly pernicious and even dangerous.

Let us see what happens to the scraps that the cigarmakers discard. In most factories they fall from the benches directly to the floor where they are trodden under foot by the workmen. In the Cuban and Key West factories the men and women employed often work in their bare feet. In other tobacco producing centers the operators in going to and from their work walk through dirty streets. The condition of their shoes when they reach the factory is indescribable. And yet they sit all day long wiping their feet on the scrap tobacco which a little later is to be taken into peoples' mouths in the form of chewing or smoking tobacco!

Again, many of the cigarmakers in the larger cities are of the lower class of Polish, Russian and Italian emigrants. They are all filthy in their personal habits, and never use a handkerchief. The condition of the scrap tobacco beneath their benches can be better imagined than described in print. Particles of food, cigar and cigarette stubs that have dropped from their mouths, matches and other stuff fall upon it. At night the scraps are gathered up, placed in bags or barrels and sent to the manufacturers of cheap chewing tobacco, or snuff or cigars who work it up into the several products. No attempt is made to clean the tobacco beyond picking out the bulkier foreign substances that are mingled with it.

Now, imagine the condition of the tobacco when it finally reaches the consumer. The man who chews takes this filthy bacteria-laden stuff into his mouth, which is most susceptible to attacks of disease germs. In view of this fact, is it any wonder that mouth and throat diseases are increasing with alarming rapidity? The bacilli of consumption, syphilitic, scrofular and other contagious diseases can be taken into the body from this cheap scrap tobacco product and work untold injury to the human race. This is a subject that ought to be taken up and investigated by the Board of health. Something ought to be done to call public attention to the evil that is menacing the smokers of the country.

The manufacturers who are now making great fortunes out of the sale of the stuff will not stop the production without a struggle. But if the Christian people of the country, through the several organizations, would take up the matter and make public the dangerous character of the product it would not be long before the manufacturers would be driven out of business in spite of their wealth and organized opposition.

Re-Dedication of Pine Grove Church.

Sunday Nov. 19th, was an ideal day and brought out a throng of church goers to witness the re-dedication of the Bethel Reform church. Rev. W. K. Harnish very ably filled the pulpit. The pastor, Rev. A. A. Black, had charge of the services and was happy to announce that the expense of repair was almost met and only asked for a liberal plate collection, to which request the congregation very generously and cheerfully responded. The church was built in 1887 and never once asked for aid from the public. In the evening Mr. Black, the pastor, delivered a historic address that was interesting to his hearers.

1832 the corner stone was laid for the Union church where the Lutheran now stands and it was dedicated the following year. Rev. Mr. Keefer of Bellefonte was the first pastor and served for several years. Rev. Mr. Fisher was chosen pastor and served until 1857. He was followed by Rev. W. H. Grough who served his people until 1888, when the present pastor, Rev. A. A. Black was called and has served in his Master's vineyard faithfully and successfully and has made a record to be proud of.

Bethel church was built in 1888. The corner stone was laid May 28th, 1888, and the edifice was dedicated Sept. 30th, 1889. The Union church workers continued to worship in the old church until 1857 when the Presbyterian congregation built on the opposite side of the church yard, their own temple. The Lutheran and Reformed brothers the same year built the first Lutheran church, the Lutherans being the two-third owners and the Reforms one-third. They continued thus until 1887 when the Lutherans purchased the entire building. About the same time the Methodists built a house of worship just across the street. Of the twenty-nine original members of the Reform Bethel congregation in 1888 thirteen have died and nine have moved away. Their present membership is fifty-one, and the congregation is in a most flourishing condition. They have a well trained choir with Miss Sadie Keichline as organist.

The edifice is beautiful, the inside walls being of a greenish hue, the ceiling, water colors, the outside white with dark trimmings.

Every Two Minutes

Physicians tell us that all the blood in a healthy human body passes through the heart once in every two minutes. If this action becomes irregular the whole body suffers. Poor health follows poor blood; Scott's Emulsion makes the blood pure. One reason why is such a great aid is because it passes so quickly into the blood. It is partly digested before it enters the stomach; a double advantage in this. Less work for the stomach; quicker and more direct benefits. To get the greatest amount of good with the least possible effort is the desire of everyone in poor health. Scott's Emulsion does just that. A change for the better takes place even before you expect it.

A BATTLE FOR TRADE

Lively Contest of Rival Manufacturers In Japan.

INGENIOUS ADVERTISING METHODS

Competition Sharp and Queer Devices Resorted To—Large Signs Displaying Excellence of Different Wares Are Printed on Cloth and Swung From Tomb to Tomb.

A good story comes to the United States concerning a vigorous contest that is being carried on between rival manufacturers of cigarettes in Japan, says W. W. Price, the Columbia (S. C.) Record's Washington correspondent. The ingenuity of Japanese manufacturers in advertising their product will be found interesting. Cigarettes from American grown tobacco are being advertised there with colored quarter sheet posters and handbills. The coloring of the advertising matter is most blood red, and the cigarette campaign is growing more active every day. The Japanese tobacco monopoly, on the one hand, is pushing three leading brands in Manchuria, while the British-American Tobacco company, on the other, has its agents knocking at the gates leading to the late war zone and seeking to carry the campaign into the interior on equal terms. Thus far the British-American company has not been allowed to send foreigners beyond Newchwang, but through native subagents the virtues of the Virginia leaf are already being announced on the face of old Chinese walls that have never before been utilized for advertising purposes. The Japanese have the advantage of being able to push their goods under the direct supervision of their own countrymen. Japanese merchants, also, who sell to the army, have for several months been allowed to go into the interior to certain points under Japanese military authority and regulation.

In Manchuria the natives, in some instances women, smoke cigarettes. The field is considered a rich one in this trade and is consequently sought after with much eagerness. The lurid advertising matter used by both parties seeking the business of the enormous cigarette smoking community is decorated with Chinese characters describing the wonderful qualities of the tobacco used. Pictures of the exact size and the distinguishing marks of the packages used are printed on the placards. The British-American company makes a feature of the quality of the Virginia leaf that is used. The leaf is imported from America and manufactured into cigarettes at Shanghai. The Japanese tobacco monopoly puts its goods on this market under Chinese labels, but gives the names of its chief brands in English on the package. This method is the one adopted by its active rival.

A few days ago the British-American managers at Newchwang, which is headquarters for Manchuria, billed the native city as prominently as a great circus is announced on billboards. Following this, the Japanese tobacco monopoly managers begin giving away sample cigarettes attached to a neat card having Chinese and Japanese flags printed on top, with real matches for flagstaffs and with miniature pictures of the boxes of their leading brands in pyramid forms under the flags. Holes punched into the cards admitted and held the sample cigarettes.

The British-American company has Chinese speaking foreigners in charge of its campaigns in Manchuria, and a house to house canvass is now going on. Competition is sharp, and all kinds of queer devices are being resorted to by both the sellers of American and native tobacco to get their goods on the market and prominently before the people. House boats carry their entire sides placarded with the virtues of different brands of tobacco, and in many cemeteries large signs printed on cloth and swung from tomb to tomb display the excellence of different makes.

The agents of the Japanese government tobacco monopoly in advertising their goods in Manchuria declare that their cigarette "administers life," "supports the spirits," "this cigarette, of government manufacture, is sweet and of good quality, famous, once tried always to be liked;" "will cause the smoker to feel as if in a dream like unto the mountain Wooshan."

American manufacturers of leaf tobacco will reap good harvests while this war is on in the east.

Christmas.

Bring in the Yule log from the wood
And let the bells of Christmas ring.
Once more good will and brotherhood
The sweet rewards of toiling bring.
Though wintry winds go howling by,
The cheering flames are leaping high,
And peace is over everything.

With holly and with mistletoe
We make the world a world of cheer,
And bright the Christmas candles glow,
And love is in the atmosphere.
We hail this holy day of days,
We lift our voices in glad praise
And know that heaven is very near.

So let the Yuletide spirit bring
The higher love which Christmas means.
It's rather early yet to sing
Concerning holly and the scenes
Connected with the mistletoe,
But we must do it now, you know,
Or fall behind the magazines.

WORK WEAKENS THE KIDNEYS.

Doan's Kidney Pills Have Done Great Service for People Who Work in Bellefonte.

Most Bellefonte people work every day in some strained, unnatural position—bending constantly over a desk—riding on jolting wagons or cars—doing laborious housework; lifting, reaching or pulling, or trying the back in a hundred and one other ways. All these strains tend to wear, weaken and injure the kidneys until they fall behind in their work of filtering the poisons from the blood. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys, put new strength in bad backs. Bellefonte cures prove it.

Frank P. Davis, moulder, of 246 E. Logan St., says: "I used to suffer very much with a weakness of the back and severe pains through my loins. It kept me in constant misery and I seemed to be unable to find any relief, until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at F. Potts Green's drug store and used them. They reached the spot and in a short time my strength returned. I have never had any trouble of the kind since and am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills not only because they helped me but because I know of others who have also found relief in the same way, and I have yet to hear of a case in which this remedy has failed to give satisfaction."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. sole agents for the United States.

OLD TURNPIKE ABANDONED.

Famous Highway in Penns Valley Abandoned.

Another famous turnpike in Centre county has been condemned and thrown open to the public, by the settlement this week of the issue between "The Bellefonte, Aaronsburg and Youngmanstown Turnpike Road Company vs Centre county." This turnpike extended from Old Fort in Potter township eastward through the centre of Pennsvalley to the Union county line, a distance of 23 miles. Along the route there were numerous toll-gates, all of which will now be abandoned and this main thoroughfare will have to be maintained by the following districts: Potter, Gregg, Penn and Haines townships and Millheim boro.

In January 1903 a petition was framed by citizens living along the road asking that the turnpike be abandoned and made a public highway. The principal reason given was that the road was not kept in proper shape for the amount of toll charged. On the other hand, travel along the road fell off so much that the company insisted that they could not afford to make the repairs demanded by the public. The petition for the vacation of the turnpike was approved by the Court. Viewers went over the property carefully and their findings were that the turnpike be condemned and made a public road, and fixed the value of the property at $3,000 for which the county was liable, with costs. The turnpike company took an appeal as to value fixed upon the property, and that appeal came up for a hearing at the special session of court this week. Monday evening an amicable settlement was reached and the case was concluded. The terms are: The county to pay $3,500 instead of $3,000 for the road within 60 days, with interest, and costs; the turnpike company retains the toll houses, with one year's time to remove same from the right-of-way.

The costs in these condemnation proceedings will aggregate over $1,500 which with the $3,500 for the road, makes a total of over $5,000 to be paid out of county funds for this turnpike. But that is not all.

It also makes it necessary for the county to erect and maintain four additional bridges: two across the dam at Spring Mills, one over Elk creek in Millheim, and another at Woodward, and several of them will be expensive structures. These bridges will have to be built soon, possibly during the coming year, as they are hardly safe for ordinary traffic, let alone heavy hauling.

For some years the turnpike from Woodward to the Union county line was abandoned and no tolls were charged. In Haines township the pike is in bad shape, and, in fact all along, it is greatly in need of repairs.

At one time this was a noted highway to the Eastern markets. In the early days when railroads were unknown, all traffic was conveyed either by canals to the river and then rafted to Philadelphia or by wagons. The outlet for that portion of the county was then to convey by teams the farm and other products either across the Seven Mountains to Lewistown, or down through the Pennsvalley Narrows to the canal and river at Lewisburg.

This turnpike was much traveled, up until 1876 when the railroad was extended from Montandon to Spring Mills and later to Bellefonte. It was not alone devoted to local traffic but was an important connecting link between Philadelphia, Reading and the northwestern part of the state.

Before the railway locomotive penetrated Pennsvalley that turnpike was a valuable property, and the stockholders considered it a gilt edged security. The price accepted for the 23 miles, $3,500, would scarcely build a single mile.

—Andrew Pentz, Jr., ex-Sheriff of Clearfield county, who has been a paralytic invalid for several years, died at his home near Luthersburg, on Saturday night. His funeral took place at Clearfield Tuesday.

—We are indebted to J. Ellis Stine, agent for the Phoenix Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Hartford, Conn., for some very nice desk blotters. If you are in need of life insurance give Mr. Stine a call.

—Among those from Bellefonte who attended the funeral Friday of the late J. Fearon Mann at Lewistown was James Harris, Sr., Harry Hutchinson, Mrs. Margaret Hutchinson and Mrs. Carner of Hublersburg.

—Word was received from Altoona last week that Calvin Horner son of Mrs. William Horner, west of Centre Hall, fell down an elevator shaft and was badly injured. He was engaged in one of the Altoona restaurants for the past year or more.

—Waddell, Hunting & Walters vaudeville company will be at the opera house this evening. Rube Waddle, the famous pitcher of the Athletic team, will be one of the principals of this company. All the "fans" will be there to see him.

—Mr. A. L. Leas, manager of the Bell Exchange, at this place, has resigned owing to ill health and is succeeded by Mr. Mallalieu. Mr. Leas is now Superintendent of Construction work and started in at Millheim this week. It is thought the out door work will hasten his recovery.

—The Methodist parsonage was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 11 o'clock Thursday. The contracting parties were Mr. Jno. A. Fulkrod, of Williamsport and Miss Mary E. Thompson, daughter of Robert Thompson of this place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Wood Jr.

—Last Wednesday evening while at the home of her son, Hol. Crouse, Mrs. Margaret Crouse, an aged Aaronsburg lady, fell down the cellar steps and was badly hurt. No bones were broken, but she received a number of bruises. Friends picked her up and carried her to bed, where she remained until Sunday afternoon when she was taken to her home, and at this writing is getting along as well as can be expected.—Millheim Journal.

—Frank Torrey, the most unclean individual with whom the Harrisburg police have ever come in contact, died in the Dauphin county prison Saturday night. Torrey was picked up by the police in a filthy condition Saturday and taken to prison, where he was given a bath and then assigned to a cell. His death occurred a few hours later from "exhaustion and exposure," according to the prison physician. He was an umbrella mender, 51 years old, and was traveling afoot to Allentown.

—The deer are having a busy two weeks of it.

—The first real, genuine snow storm of the season occurred Tuesday.

—The cigarette law states plainly "that if any person shall furnish cigarettes or cigarette paper by gift, sale or otherwise to any person under the age of 21 years, he or she so offending shall be guilty of a misdemeanor," and it ought not to be very difficult to apprehend offenders when the evidence is so abundant.

—Grant Warner, of North Wales, Pa., who was born at Nittany, Centre county, and is a nephew of John Woomer, of Bellefonte, is lying at the point of death at his home. Mr Warner was in his stable early Tuesday morning getting ready to go away, when Policeman John Stephens mistook him for a robber and shot him through the head.

—Word was received here this week announcing the sad news of the death of Rev. Miles O. Noll at his home in Carlisle Monday morning at 3 o'clock. Death was due to typhoid fever after and illness of three weeks. Rev. Noll was formerly pastor of the Reformed church at this place and was a popular and eloquent preacher. His death will be a great shock to his many friends here. The funeral services were held Wednesday at 1 o'clock at Lewisburg.

—On last Saturday J. Green Gray, of Stormstown, well known in Bellefonte, met with an accident that will lay him off from work for some time. He was hauling a load of wood from the "Barrens," and in driving over a log that was in his way he either was jolted off the wagon, or fell in such a manner as to break his arm about the wrist. Some time ago he met with a similar accident which has given him very much trouble, in connection with quite a siege of rheumatism.

—Charley Lukenbach, who has been associated with the Huntingdon and Clearfield Telephone Co., in this place during the past four years as local manager, has tendered his resignation to take effect the last of the week with a view of accepting a position as clerk in the First National bank at Bellefonte. Mr. L has labored faithfully in building up the interests of the H. & C. Telephone Co. in this neighborhood, and has met with marvelous success. He is a good fellow, also, and there will be very general regret over his removal from our city. We bespeak for him, however, the very highest measure of success in his new work.—Philipsburg Journal.

—R. S. Brouse is slowly recovering from his recent attack of appendicitis. An operation will not be necessary.

—It is said that a young man from Verona Hill carries a torch when he goes to see his best girl. It is not necessary for he never gets home till day light any way.

—Passing through town Tuesday was a big family party from Altoona, on a hunting trip It comprised John H. Elbright, better known as the "deacon" engineer of the Pittsburg division, with his wife, six sons, four daughters in-laws and two sisters, bound for the wilds of Centre county in quest of all kinds of game. There is but little doubt but the "deacon" and his followers will cause a scarcity of game in the territory in which they hunt.—Tyrone Herald.

Resignation of Dr. Laurie.

On Sunday morning, November 19th, at the close of the morning service in the Presbyterian Church, Rev. Dr. Laurie read to the congregation his resignation, as follows:

"I beg leave to offer my resignation as pastor of this church, and I ask the Church to unite with me in requesting the Presbytery of Huntingdon to dissolve the pastoral relation now existing, said dissolution to take place at the close of the present year

Bellefonte, Pa.,
(Signed) WM LAURIE.
Nov. 19th, 1905"

A meeting of the congregation was held November 26th, 1905, to take action on the above resignation and, in accepting it, the following minutes was adopted by a rising vote of the large congregation present.

"The congregation of the Presbyterian Church in Bellefonte, in accepting the resignation of the Rev. William Laurie, who, for almost thirty years, has been its pastor, desires to testify by this minute to his faithfulness as a pastor and his unusual ability as a preacher.

"Holding with simple and unswerving faith the doctrines of his church, firm in his adherence to her standards and loyal to her traditions, Dr. Laurie never failed to present the truth with earnestness, with absolute sincerity and with convincing force.

"We here record our belief in his Christian character, in his high devotion to duty, we commend him for the sincerity of his convictions and for his untiring zeal in the prosecution of his work; and it is our sincere desire and hope that his future years may be full of usefulness, and that his high abilities may continue to be exercised in the work to which he has given his life."

Academy Defeats Philipsburg at Foot Ball.

The Bellefonte Academy and Philipsburg foot ball teams had a battle royal on Saturday at the fair grounds.

Owing to the fact that the regular full back for the Academy wouldn't play, Johnny Weaver who played quarter for the past two seasons put on a suit and put up a star game at full back in both offensive and defensive work. It was Johnny Weaver aided by the good interference work in the line who made the only touchdown of the game from which Pantall kicked a pretty goal. The Academy boys put up a surprisingly strong game. They haven't shown a better spirit this season than was displayed on Saturday. Every player seemed to be at his best. The forwards made holes in the line and the backfield took advantage of them. The visitors were not idle all the time either for several times they had the ball and by clever mass plays rushed the ball for consistent gains into the Academy's territory only to lose it at a critical moment by a costly fumble. The Philipsburgers played one of the strongest rushing and hurdling games seen here in many a day.

Every Academy player deserves credit for a good share in the victory of 6 0.

Poems by a Local Author.

The first copy of "The Visionary and other poems" a dainty volume of verses by our new poetess, Mrs. Christine L. Swayne (Mrs. Noah H Swayne) has arrived at the Index.

Mr. Hunter ordered one dozen copies and but one was sent. Who dares say that Bellefonte is not keeping up her literary traditions.

The book is published by Richard D. Badger, of Boston, the Gortam Press, and no doubt will be eagerly studied by the local connoisseurs.

ROYAL

The Absolutely Pure
Baking Powder

Made of Cream of Tartar, and Free From Alum or Phosphatic Acid

Royal Baking Powder renders bread, biscuit, cake and all flour foods finer and more healthful.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Baking powders made from alum, phosphates and other harsh, caustic acids are lower in price, but they are injurious to the stomach.

"The injurious effect of alum on the mucous coat of the stomach is positive and beyond dispute; it is both an irritant and an astringent. The use of alum in any article of food or article used in the preparation of food should be prohibited."

FELL EIGHTY-FOUR FEET.

Terrible Accident Which Resulted in the Death of John Seibert Jr.

John Seibert Jr., a native of Centre County, met with a terrible accident last Friday in New York City which resulted in his death. He was in the employ of a Bridge and Iron company and was working on a large tank. Suddenly he missed his footing and fell a distance of over 84 feet, death resulting instantly.

He was an unmarried man over thirty years of age and the son of John Seibert of Benner township.

The remains were brought to Bellefonte Monday and taken to the home of his parents. The funeral took place Tuesday.

John Nearhood Dead.

John Nearhood, one of the best known citizens of Taylor township, died at his home in that place Wednesday November 22nd at 11 o'clock. His death was due to a complication of heart and stomach trouble.

The deceased was aged 66 years and 6 months and was a veteran of the civil war having served in the 110th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers. He was a highly respected farmer and was esteemed by all who knew him.

He leaves to mourn his loss, a wife and the following children: William, of Madera; Mrs. J. H. Gardner of Scranton; Mrs. Ben McCracken and Mrs. Edward Wigleman, of Altoona, Mrs. Joseph Goss, Samuel and Ira of Mt. Pleasant. Funeral services were held at Mt. Pleasant, Saturday morning, conducted by Rev. Shires.

Beck—Harpster.

A very pretty home wedding took place Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Harpster of Centre Linn, when their only daughter Miss Margaret was united in marriage to Roy Beck, the ceremoney being performed by Rev. A. A. Black, of Boalsburg. The parlors of the Harpster home were tastefully decorated for the occasion and thronged with invited guests who gathered to witness the consummation of the happy event. Following the ceremony, the congratulations and a view of the many valuable and useful presents the bride received a delicious wedding supper was served. The bride is a popular young woman in the community in which she lived while the groom is an industrious young farmer.

Game Birds Becoming Scarce.

Some action should certainly be taken in every part of the state to prevent the extermination of partridges and other game birds. Reports from various parts of the state say that game birds are becoming scarcer every year. The severe weather of last winter left but few birds to mate and the scarcity causes huntsmen to hunt them almost to the point of extermination. Unless something is done so few birds will escape the hunters' shot or the ravages of winter that the sport will within a few years become a thing of the past.

A Card of Thanks

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Vallance wish to extend thanks to their friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness extended the family at the time of the death and funeral of their son, William C. Vallance.

MAY NOT HAVE TO PAY.

The Tax Due on Spirits Burned at Overholt Distillery.

Washington, November 23st.—Upon satisfactory showing to the secretary of the treasury that the recent big fire in the Overholt distillery at Bradford, Pa., was purely accidental and that the spirits were destroyed without fraud, there may be an abatement in whole or in part of the internal revenue tax due on them aggregating between $700,000. The advised statutes provide for such abatement and Mr. Yerkes, commissioner of internal revenue, today outlined the ordinary procedure in such cases. The distiller presents a claim for abatement of the amount of tax on the spirits accompanied by affidavits and other proof showing that the loss and destruction of the property was without any fraud, collusion or negligence on the part of the owner, the revenue officer examines this claim and the accompanying paper, and if in the judgement of the commissioner the facts developed are sufficient to enter an order of abatement, this is recommended to the secretary of the treasury and passed on by him, he either abating the tax or disapproving and ordering its collection.

Another Distressing and Fatal Hunting Accident.

Mistaken for a deer and shot to death by his gunning companion is the sad tale of a day's sport that Wilbert Oberdorf, 23 years old, of West Buffalo township, had planned.

Oberdorf and his life-long companion, Joseph Biddle, aged 21 years, were out with a party often hunters gunning for deer and bear in the Brush valley narrows about ten miles from Loganton, on a direct line, and became separated from the main body. About noon Saturday Oberdorf and Biddle found signs which led them to believe that a deer was near.

They separated so as to close in upon the animal from opposite directions. Biddle saw a laurel bush move, and shot. He saw something drop, and hastening to the spot was horrified to find his bosom friend, Oberdorf, shot through the heart. Death was instantaneous. Oberdorf leaves a widow, having been married but recently. The remains were taken to deceased's home in Union county for burial.

Death of George Dolan.

George Dolan of Bellefonte, a painter by trade, fell from a swinging ladder while at work Tuesday morning in Scottdale, Pa., and died as a result of his injuries.

The deceased was the son of Mrs. Ida M. Dolan, who lived near the Glass Works up until her death a few years ago. He was 47 years of age and unmarried.

The remains will arrive in Bellefonte this afternoon at 1:23. Interment in the Union cemetery.

At the time of the accident Mr. Dolan was painting at the car shops at Scottdale. He fell a distance of 45 feet. Both legs were broken above the knee, one ankle was dislocated, an arm broken and his nose almost torn from his face. He died in the Connellsville hospital.

A Murder Near Lewistown.

Shot through the heart, George Bush, 17 years old a resident of Bobtown in Barnham, was instantly killed by a laborer employed at the Logan Iron and Coal company. The shooting was the result of a quarrel with a number of foreigners. The foreigner who is suspected of having done the shooting was arrested.
